

Title: How to get published: Open Science & Transparency

Description:

Dr. Maryann Martone, the Editor-in-Chief of Brain & Behavior will lead a workshop covering everything you need to know on how to publish your next paper, including an overview of best practice for writing and submitting your paper, mastering the peer review process, and maximizing the impact of your research. Dr. Martone will also address key Open Science topics including open access, open data, reproducibility and transparency.

Time preference:

Lunch seminar: about 1 hour during the lunch time on November 17, 2017

Organizer:

Maryann Martone, University of California, San Diego, USA
The Editor-in-Chief of Brain & Behavior